Young, captivating, and vivacious, Aya Samaha starts off the year on a high with her new movie, 6 Days, skyrocketing in box offices across Egypt. We sat down with her for a quick chat about her role, and how she prepared for this emotional movie.

Aya Samaha

Can you tell us a little bit about your character in your new film 6 Days?

Aliaa and Youssef are people from the same neighborhood, they went to the same school and they grew up together. Aliaa's character is very relatable in our Egyptian society, she resembles the girls we have around us, our friends, and the people we know. She is a person who has gone through hard circumstances, beyond her control, so she found herself in a constant struggle to try to live a good life and you can see that through different phases of her life. You can clearly see that in the movie, how time has the ability to change a person, and how the people around you and the ones you surround yourself with can affect you. This is the only way I can describe the character without giving any spoilers.

How did you prepare for this role? Especially that from what you are saying, it seems like a very emotional role.

It was not an easy role to prepare for. Ahmed Malek and I first started working on this project by taking an acting workshop with an acting coach, Nadim, who worked tirelessly with us to get us to really embody our characters and know them by heart. He taught us to really master our characters so that when their journey changes throughout the movie, we are also able to change course and attitude with them. It was not easy because the film is mostly based on long scenes and a lot of dialogue, so we had to completely immerse ourselves into the characters.

Where there any scenes in the movie that you felt resembled you in your real life?

A lot of scenes actually. Certain situations in the movie and places we have filmed at were very realistic to me. Even some of the songs in the score of the movie felt close to my heart and my personal life.

What was the thing you have enjoyed the most by working with Ahmed Malek?

I really enjoyed working with Malek because he loves his job; he loves acting and is a very creative person. I like working in these creative, fun settings because it brings out the best in me.

How did the director Karim help you and Malek bring out this chemistry on screen and navigate an emotional storyline?

This was the first to have worked with Karim, and I enjoyed it. He ensures that everyone on the plateau is comfortable and in the best head space, which I really appreciated during such an emotional project. Karim has a style of work where he likes to converse and guide you, not just command what to do.

Are you a person who believes in faith or are you a more calculating person?

I highly believe in faith.

Yosra El Lozy

In a candid conversation that reveals both her artistic journey and personal reflections, actress Yosra El Lozy opens up about her complex new role in the series Sarab. El Lozy reflects on the balance between her career and family life, offering fans a glimpse into the woman behind the roles.

Your new hit series Sarab is taken from an Australian series, how did you and the team adapt it to the Egyptian audience and bring the story closer to us?

I made it a point not to watch the original series until I was done filming this Egyptian version. The story itself is an emotional one that would appeal to any audience around the world; it's about a mother and a father whose child gets abducted.

Can you share your experience working alongside Khaled El Nabawy for the first time in a series?

Everyone keeps asking me if I was scared, but I don't see why I should have been. On the contrary I was excited and he is delightful to work with. Even though his character in the series (Khaled) is a detestable man, while acting and in between scenes we would laugh, and it was all light hearted off camera.

You played the role of Malak, who is a mother and a working woman, so what aspects did you bring from your own life and personality to this character?

I feel that anyone who plays a role can see themselves in at least some aspects of this character, because automatically when you play a role you put a part of yourself in it. And sometimes it becomes hard to draw the line on where the character begins and where you as a person end.

The lines get blurred and you don't know any more if you are the one convincing yourself that this character resembles you in real life, or if you are the one putting your own life into it so the characters starts to I resemble. But what I know for certain is that I put part of myself and who I am in any role I am portraying. If I have to summarize it, I would say that what resemble me with my character Malak is that we are both mothers, and working women and our priority is our children, home, and husband.

I feel that anyone who plays a role can see themselves in at least some aspects of this character

Since Malak and Yousra are both mothers, how did being a mother in real life help you in this role?

I feel that how I interacted with my screen son very much depicted how I am as a mother in my real life. I was just talking about that actually, that how I would read to the child, or talk to him was learnt from the way I act with my own kids. Especially that before I became a mother I had rarely been around kids and didn't know how to act around them. So now that I have been around kids for the past 10 years, and am a mother, I have picked up on a lot of things in how to deal with children, and it's the small things really. You can even see it during certain scenes where I am reading a children's book and there is no sound but I instinctively started acting out the animals and sounds to the child I am reading it to.

What advice would you give to mothers, like yourself, who are balancing between work and family?

The thing with us mothers is that we always feel like we are not doing enough for our children. No matter what profession the mother has, she will always feel like she is falling short and wants to give them more. So I find it crucial for a woman to fulfill herself, in any other way, apart from motherhood and being a mom. Even if the thing that fulfills her is a hobby, it does not need to be a job or a source of income. But she needs to find something for herself, that doesn't revolve around her kids or household chores, something she enjoys. My second encouragement would be that feeling guilty as a mother for not doing enough is normal, but that we have to keep sane and not compromise ourselves. If you constantly teda7i w tigi 3la nafsek, you will get to a point where you might not be able to give to your kids anymore and in turn become a bad mother. You have to nurture yourself to be able to give your kids everything, and this is something that I have learnt with time. I would rather keep some special time with my kids every week where I am entirely devoted to them and we can do activities or sit together, rather than try to balance everything every day and in turn they see me angry and frustrated every day.

QUICK FIRE ROUND

The most precious moments with your children?

The morning during weekends, and holidays when they wake up fresh and not in a hurry or a bad mood for school.

Your favorite activities with your kids?

We love to watch movies, and play soccer and basketball.

Cooking with your kids or eating out?

Cooking with my kids.

Read them a bedtime story or make up a bed time story?

Depends on their mood. Sometimes they ask for a specific book, other times they ask me to tell a story. But whenever it's time to make up a story each one of them wants a different plot. Sometimes one wants a story about a wolf, and the other wants a story about a princess, so I have to make-up a story on the spot about both these characters.

Sculpt Yourself

into Perfect Shape

When you have followed the diets, exercised to the max, and there are still unsightly areas of stubborn fat that simply refuse to budge, it calls for more extreme measures. Body contouring and CoolSculpting both give good results with a short recovery time.

Choosing between body contouring and CoolSculpting depends on your goals and treatment areas.”

CoolSculpting

CoolSculpting, also known as cryolipolysis, is a type of body contouring that uses controlled cooling to freeze and eliminate fat cells in areas like the stomach, thighs, sides, and chin. The body then naturally processes these and eliminates over a period of time. A non-invasive procedure, it doesn't involve require incisions, anaesthesia, or downtime, meaning you can slip it easily into your daily schedule with sessions taking about 35-60 minutes per area. It is perfect for targeted fat reduction, allowing you to focus on specific areas of unwanted fat, with the gradual process of fat cell removal resulting in natural-looking improvements.

Body Contouring

Body contouring includes various treatments that remove extra fat and tighten the skin and encompasses a variety of technologies, including radiofrequency, ultrasound, and laser treatments. The benefits of non-surgical body contouring procedures are that they do not require surgery, resulting in minimal downtime and fewer risks. Radiofrequency (RF) treatments heat and destroy fat cells while boosting collagen for tighter skin, ultrasound energy breaks down fat cells, which the body naturally eliminates, and laser lipolysis melts fat cells, which are then removed naturally or with minimal suction.

These treatments can target specific areas like the abdomen, thighs, arms, or buttocks, giving improved skin firmness and boosting collagen production.

Body Contouring or CoolSculpting?

While both methods can target different body parts, CoolSculpting is great for reducing fat in specific spots, with results appearing within 1-3 months as the body eliminates frozen fat cells. Other body contouring options may provide more immediate results, and can vary in length, and can also tighten and firm the skin.

COOLSCULPTING: Ideal for targeted fat reduction with minimal discomfort and downtime.

RADIOFREQUENCY TREATMENTS: Effective for both fat reduction and skin tightening.

ULTRASOUND TREATMENTS: Great for breaking down fat cells in larger areas.

LASER LIPOLYSIS: Suitable for small to medium areas of fat reduction.

Choosing between body contouring and CoolSculpting depends on your goals and treatment areas. Both methods offer non-surgical ways to reduce stubborn fat and shape your body.

At Home in AI Rehab with

Keiko Isaki

Creative and charming, Keiko Isaki has embraced life in AI Rehab to the full. We caught up with her to hear her story.

Keiko, when did you come to Egypt, and what attracted you here?

When I first set foot in Egypt in 1987, I was immediately captivated by its charm and rich history. It became a personal mission to one day return to this mesmerizing land. That dream came true in 1996, when I was offered a position at the Semiramis Intercontinental Hotel in Cairo. Initially, the plan was to stay for just a year, but Egypt had other plans for me.

The connection I felt to Cairo wasn't just a coincidence. My parents had lived in Cairo for over eight years during the 1960s, and their stories of the city's vibrant culture and warm hospitality had always resonated with me. There was a sense of belonging, an inexplicable feeling of being home, that drew me back to this country.

How long have you been living in Rehab?

I first discovered AI Rehab in 2000, back when it was still a budding community. From the start, I knew it was where I wanted to live and raise my son. In 2012, my family and I made the move, and we've been enjoying the vibrant community ever since. Moving to AI Rehab has been one of the best decisions for us, especially as we left behind the crowded centre of Cairo.

Do you live with family members?

I live with my Egyptian husband, while our son is currently studying abroad.

Have you found it easy to make friends here?

Initially, making friends was both challenging and rewarding. However, with the help of social media, I eventually met wonderful friends who have since become invaluable treasures in my life.

Do you work in AI Rehab or nearby?

I work online and have found wonderful opportunities thanks to my fluency in both Japanese and English. I love that AI Rehab has so many lovely cafes where I can work from, making my remote work experience even more enjoyable.

How do you spend your leisure time?

In my leisure time, you'll often find me indulging my love for travel—I'm a self-proclaimed travel enthusiast who sometimes wishes I could live on an airplane! When I'm not exploring new destinations, I enjoy meeting up with friends, singing my heart out at karaoke, and sharing the art of Origami with both children and adults. Whether I'm teaching or demonstrating, I find great joy in introducing others to this beautiful and intricate craft from my home country, Japan.

What are your favourite spots in AI Rehab?

When asked about my favourite spots in the AI Rehab community, I have to admit I haven't explored all the places yet. However, recently I've been enjoying visits to Tinos and Friends at Gateway Mall—their pastries are simply amazing. Other go-to spots for meet-ups would be the Yard and of course our Nadi, a welcoming venue that never disappoints.

Do you practice any sports, hobbies, or cultural activities?

As I mentioned earlier, I have a passion for origami, the ancient Japanese art of paper folding. This beautiful craft involves creating shapes without using any glue or scissors. Origami isn't just for children, but also adults—it's particularly beneficial for our elder citizens. It helps improve memory, prevent dementia, and promote hand mobility. Sharing this art with others brings me great joy and fulfillment.

How do you manage to maintain your Japanese culture and cuisine?

Maintaining my Japanese culture and cuisine isn't always easy, but I'm fortunate to have my sister also living in AI Rehab. After nearly 30 years in Egypt, I've learned not to stress about maintaining every aspect of my culture or cuisine. Instead, I embrace my new home and take joy in being original, blending my Japanese roots with the vibrant local culture. This approach has allowed me to enjoy the best of both worlds.

Do you know of other Japanese nationals in AI Rehab?

I know there are quite a few; it will be nice to form a community.

What are the three things you like most about living in a gated community?

Where do I start? The convenience - AI Rehab has everything you need. Safety - I am proud to say I am the pioneer woman in AI Rehab riding an electric motorcycle here as I feel safe and secure. Reputation - It's great to belong to a well-known and admired community that even non-residents respect and enjoy.

Would you recommend AI Rehab to any friends wanting to buy a home?

Without a doubt. It is an ideal community for individuals of all ages.

Loving Madinaty with

Sarah Mahdi

Catching a few minutes to chat with City Life, fitness aficionado Sarah Mahdi exudes vibrant energy and positivity. Just launching her second wellness hub, it seems that nothing can slow her down. We find out what drives her.

Sarah, what prompted your decision to move to Madinaty?

I moved to Madinaty around seven years ago. The serenity and atmosphere is super nice, and the view from the villas and facilities and life style make me feel at ease, as if I'm outside of Cairo.

Do you live with family or as a single?

My whole family lives in Madinaty, around three generations of our family.

Has life in Madinaty lived up to expectations?

To a great extent it has. Having banks, schools, work opportunities, and safety are the main reasons why Madinaty stands out from any other compound in Egypt.

Tell us about your wellness ventures, how did you start?

I founded Yoga Hub around three years ago in Madinaty Golf Club. It was a great gateway to work in something I'm passionate about. The TMG management and staff were super helpful and understanding, something that encouraged me to expand my business further in Madinaty by making 101 Wellness come to life.

How does your new centre differ from Yoga Hub?

The strip location is unique, being in the centre of Madinaty Mostakbal City and New Administrative Capital. 101 is a community based wellness centre built especially for women that will provide not only the ultimate fitness experience, as it offers a wide variety of services. It has an indoor heated pool, functional training, and a fully equipped cross fit arena, along with a wide variety of classes. But more importantly, it is a safe space to feel at ease, in a judgement-free, friendly community.

Are your sessions geared to a wide age group?

If your age starts from 11 years, 101 is the place to be. No matter your age, experience or fitness level, we work with beginners to pros.

Apart from obvious health benefits, what other benefits do people enjoy through attending your sessions?

We offer community service activities, retreats, healing circles, and both private and group coaching.

What is your advice to anyone who thinks they can't fit wellness activities into their schedule?

Adding sports into your daily routine will give you a better life and a better shape.

Has living in Madinaty been a help in developing your business?

Of course, 101 Wellness is a convenient gateway to a gorgeous healthy lifestyle for residents.

Would you recommend Madinaty to anyone looking for a place to live?

That's a big YES.

How do you spend your leisure time?

After introducing the latest projects like The Strip and Open Air Mall I see Madinaty now on a whole different level, now I truly have almost all of my needs met. It was only a missing a Four Seasons property, so I can't wait.

It is a safe space to feel at ease, in a judgement-
free, friendly
community

We celebrate the launch of our new section featuring the talented youngsters of our community with chat with Malak Hisham, a young karate dynamo claiming medal after medal in both local and international competitions. Proudly putting Egypt's name on the podium time after time, Malak has a promising career ahead of her in this demanding and challenging sport. Let's cheer her on!

MALAK HISHAM

Going for Gold

Malak, how old are you and when did you start practising karate?

I am 18 years old now and I started playing karate when I was 5 years old.

Does anyone else in your family practise martial arts?

Yes, my two brothers both play karate.

Why did you choose karate, and when did you discover you had a talent for it?

I chose karate because I enjoy the training. My coach is Islam Mohamed; he is the coach for Madinaty Club, and the National team. I love karate because it's an escape from reality for me, and takes me out of my comfort zone. As I started training I soon discovered I had a talent, and wanted to improve more and more when I began winning many championships. These were starting from normal national championships up to world championships.

Which championships and competitions have you competed in, and which have you won?

I won several national championships, and in international championships I achieved 1st and 2nd place in the World Championship in Slovenia in 2022, 1st place in World Cup in Uzbekistan in 2023, and 1st and 3rd place in the World Championship in Portugal in 2024.

Do you do your training in Madinaty?

Yes, I train at Madinaty Sporting Club. We are now busy preparing for my entry into the World Cup in Poland this summer.

How long have you lived in Madinaty?

I've lived in Madinaty for 6 years.

Does living in Madinaty make it easier to follow your sport?

Yes, definitely. Living in Madinaty has made it easier to follow up with my sport since the club is near my house, and it has a good karate hall and a gym to train in.

How many hours practise do you do a week?

I train an average of 9 hours a week, 3 days for karate and 3 days of fitness a week.

What do you enjoy doing in Madinaty in your free time?

I go to the malls with my family or friends, do some shopping, and try new restaurants.

Do you have favourite places?

My favourite place in Madinaty is the Open Air Mall.

What would you say to friends who are thinking of moving here?

I would highly recommend Madinaty to anyone who wants to move here, it's so peaceful, full of greenery, clean, and you'll find all kinds of services.

WEST EXTENSION

"Nothing is softer or more flexible than water, yet nothing can resist it." – Lao Tzu

Throughout the centuries writers, poets and philosophers have extolled the benefits of a view over water. Its presence exudes a calming influence, encouraging the mind to relax and reflect.

OAM Mall Water Park embraces this concept by creating a magical space, where verdant landscaping is interspersed with charming lakes and water features, each paying tribute to the beauty of water in a unique way. Dancing fountains, calm lakes, and water playing over gracious sculptures, the vast area is a riot of colour with winding pathways meandering through carefully tended gardens bursting with flowers.

"The Water Features Create a Balance Between Nature and The Contemporary Design of The Commercial Buildings"

Nestled into the centre of high-end retail, entertainment and dining outlets, the water features create a balance between nature and the contemporary design of the commercial buildings, showing that they can co-exist harmoniously, enhancing each other to spectacular effect.

MADINATY GOLF CLUB

Amateur Open Tournament 2025

Take a pleasant winter day, a pristine golf course, a good turnout of enthusiastic golfers, and you have ingredients for an exciting edition of the Madinaty Golf Club Amateur Open Tournament. City Life was at the heart of the action, catching up with the players and learning what makes golf such an exciting game. We also popped a few questions to Josh North, the General Manager of Madinaty Golf Club, to get an overview of the facilities and amenities that give it top ranking in the country.

What makes MGC a perfect venue for competitions of this type?

MGC is a championship golf course, so we have 18 holes of championship golf. We've got a superb clubhouse with all the amenities, restaurants, swimming pools, gym, etc. So it's great for the golfer. They have everything they need out of the club.

Have you seen an upswing in the popularity of the sport in recent years?

Yes, definitely. Golf is on the rise. It's becoming more and more popular with the health benefits you have there in the fresh air, for four or five hours. This year's event was over-subscribed, we had a waiting list, with 88 players in the end. We had around 10 to 12 different nationalities play.

MGC has initiated some good coaching programs. Have these attracted younger people to the sport?

Golf was seen in the past as a sport that people would play later in life, when they had a little bit more time. Now golf is a little bit more cool and trendy, and that's something that we're seeing in our coaching programs as well, with a younger demographic of people playing.

Any upcoming plans or projects?

Our next tournament is our Race to the Grove, which is our monthly tournament for our members and their guests. That's on the 14th of February, and the winner wins a prize to London.

City Life had the chance to chat with several players, and found out more about their love for the game.

ISMAIL SEIF EL NASR

I've been playing golf since 2002, so I've been playing for 23 years. Madinaty is actually one of the best courses I've ever played on. A very beautiful one and a challenging one—it's a bit difficult. There are many holes where you really need to be a good player to score well. That's a good thing in golf. And today, we're playing in the Madinaty Golf Open. It's a two-day event, and today is the second day.

How do you feel about the level of competition here at Madinaty Golf Club?

This tournament features some of the best players in Egypt. There are several top-tier players competing today, which makes it quite challenging—definitely not easy. But hopefully, we'll achieve a really good result.

Do you have any personal goals you want to achieve in this tournament?

Last week, I played in two tournaments, and I performed well in one of them. So, I was hoping to play much better today. But both today and yesterday haven't gone as planned.

DAVID KEDDINGTON

My name is David Keddington and I have been playing for probably just over 30 years.

How do you feel about the level of competition here at TMG Golf Club?

There are some very good players here.

How do you mentally stay sharp during the tournament?

I focus on the good shots. When you have a bad shot, you have to let that go, and then just go to the next hole and it starts all over again.

What do you think of the Golf Course here at Madinaty?

Oh, I love it. Madinaty is a fabulous golf course, I love playing out here.

How important is the club in terms of providing a great environment for tournaments?

I think it's critical to have a good club that has good staff. It's very difficult to set up a golf tournament. So I think the staff at Madinaty have done a very good job.

Is there anything you'd like to say to your fans watching this championship?

Come out and play. Golf is a wonderful sport and anybody can do it.

HANY HASSAN

My name is Hany Hassan. I have been playing for about 16 years.

How have you prepared for this championship?

Actually I didn't prepare for it. I just come to play and try and to do the best I can.

What do you enjoy most about playing here?

What I love about it is it's a nice course. It's well laid out and the aesthetics are good.

What do you think needs to be done to help golf continue to grow in the region and encourage young talent?

I think there need to be more announcements and publications, with notifications in media to actually make people aware of the good things that golf gives to people.

OXO MANUEL

My name is Oxo Manuel. I'm from Spain, and have been living here in Egypt for six years, and started playing golf three years ago.

How do you feel about the level of competition?

It's good. But this course is not easy. It was not a good competition for me. But I like this course a lot.

How important is the club in terms of providing a great environment for tournaments and helping players perform?

I think the club is doing so well. They have a lot of facilities here. They encourage everyone to come and play and they support everyone.

Is there anything you'd like to tell your fans watching this championship?

Only to encourage anyone to to play golf, because it's a really fun game and gives you a lot of opportunities to meet different people from different cultures.

OSAMA AL ABADY AND SEIF AL-BENDARI.

How long have you been playing golf?

We've been playing for six months, exactly the same time. We got introduced to golf and to each other through Madinaty Golf Club.

How did you prepare for this tournament?

Osama: We trained a little.

Seif: Honestly, he trained more than me—he's the professional one. I tried my best, we practiced a few times, and overall, it was a fun experience.

How do you feel about the level of competition?

Seif: The level of competition is strong. There are many talented players.

What did you enjoy most about playing here?

Osama: The course is really well-made, and everything is consistent. The greens are well-maintained, so we really enjoyed playing here.

Seif: The pin locations were different, which made it harder than usual, but it was a good challenge.

Do you have any specific goals you want to achieve?

Seif: We want to improve our handicap in 2025, I think that's every player's goal. We're still beginners, so we have a long way to go.

How important is TMG Golf Club in providing a great environment for tournaments like this?

Osama: I think it has great potential. It already hosts tournaments, but I believe it can be developed further to offer an even better experience.

What do you think needs to be done to help golf grow in the region?

Seif: We need to build a stronger golf community in the region for sure. That's the key to growing the sport

TOM WILLIAMS

My name is Tom Williams and I'm a member of Madinaty Golf Club. I've been playing since I was 14. I had a break and I took it back up when I moved to Egypt nine years ago.

How have you prepared for this championship?

This championship has been fantastic so far. I play here regularly. And these two day events are always very, very good. Very well organized, playing with some great guys. And it's a good way to meet people too.

What do you enjoy most about playing here?

It's definitely very challenging. The best part of this golf course is the condition of it. It's always in great condition. It's hosted some extremely prestigious events here, so I'm proud to be a member here in this club.

Can you share a past moment from a championship that stands out for you?

A good moment was when I did win a tournament here, and the prizes are always very good. I think on that occasion I won a six months free membership, and also not forgetting the Asian tour that was hosted here when I was lucky enough to follow the players around.

ALI EL SAEED

My name is Ali El Saeed. I'm 27 years old and just had a very hard time playing today in the Madinaty Open Amateurs, but I think I might have done well enough.

How long have you been playing?

I started playing golf when I went to the University of St. Andrews, but really consistently the past year and a half in Egypt.

And how do you feel about the level of competition here?

In terms of players, very intense, because a lot of the players here are very good.

OMAR EL-SISY

My name is Omar El-Sisy. I've been playing golf for 40 years—you wouldn't believe it!

How did you prepare for this tournament?

My level hasn't been where I want it to be, but I came today because I love this course. I really enjoy the atmosphere here and the tournaments they organize.

What do you enjoy the most about this course?

I really love the landscape here. What I also appreciate is how well-maintained the course is. The people managing it put a lot of effort into keeping it in top shape. If you want to be a great golfer, you need to play on a great course, and they make sure this one is always in excellent condition. The greens are well-kept, and you can see they take great care of every detail.

How important is the club in providing a great environment for tournaments and players?

If you look at this tournament, you'll see that over 80 players have joined. Madinaty, as a location, is great for events like this. It's a place where people live a healthy and active lifestyle, and that reflects on the kind of players who come here.

SALMA AL SHAMY

I'm Sandra Shamy. I play here for Madinaty. I've been playing here for around two years.

How did you prepare for today's tournament?

I've been practicing for the last few months. Every day I come and take some lessons.

RAMADAN TRADITIONS

from Around the World

Wherever you are, Ramadan is a time to be thankful for our blessings, and reach out and celebrate with those around us. There are some distinctive traditions that make each country unique. Let's take a peek.

THE FANOUS IN EGYPT

Steeped in history and tradition, Ramadan in Egypt is an experience never to be forgotten. Across much of Egypt, vibrant, colourful lanterns, or fanous, are lit during the evening and night in celebration of the holy month of Ramadan.

BALLADS IN ALBANIA

In a unique tradition in Albania, Roma Muslims perform special ballads to mark the beginning and end of each day's fast. Along with playing the lodra, a traditional drum covered in sheep or goat skin, many will invite families and loved ones for iftar.

DAWN PRAYER IN MOROCCO

Moroccan town criers mark dawn prayers with a musical horn every morning for neighbourhood families. The melody of the town nafar is an often beloved part of Ramadan for everyone in Morocco during this holy and special month.

SOHOUR IN INDIA

Seheriwalas in India wake up worshippers for sohour in an ancient Mughal tradition. The seheriwalas (sometimes known as zohridaars) of New Delhi are a much-loved tradition. These town criers call out prayers and the names of Allah and the Prophet Muhammed in a beautiful ode to the traditions of Ramadan.

PLAYING MHEIBES IN IRAQ

In a tradition dating back beyond memory, many Iraqi men will gather in large groups after breaking fast for a game of mheibes, an amusing game of deception where a ring is passed around under a cloth and people must guess who really has the ring based on body language alone.

CLEANSING IN INDONESIA

Many Indonesian Muslims engage in a cleansing ritual called padusan to spiritually and physically cleanse themselves to mark the start of the holy month of Ramadan. Many Muslims here will soak themselves in natural springs or even lakes as a symbolic ritual of purification.

RAMADAN DELIGHTS

First stop could be Open Air Mall, where you can tempt your taste buds at La Poire, Kouieder, Nola, Sultana, Sedra, Breadfast and Thomas.

Party Station before you leave to browse the array of gifts and decorations.

All Seasons Park Mall is a great place to relax with a coffee, dessert or something more substantial.

Iconic Tseppas has been making amazing sweets and desserts for years, or for a snack or full meal, head to Stereo or Shaghaf Coffee. Then, to find some lovely gifts and decorations, head to Sugar.

There's still a lot to discover, with East Hub having some top-notch food venues. Don't miss out on Beit Ward for authentic Lebanese cuisine or Sultan Saray for a Turkish feast, then get your caffeine fix at Vivo Caffeine, or something sweet at Samy Salem, Oval Café or El Malky.

If you are wondering why everyone is talking about The Strip, check for yourself. With popular venues like Andrea and Farida, along with some really great home-style cooking from Seoudi, you should visit often. Then of course, Craft Zone has some well-kept secrets, if sweet treats are your thing. Al Madina Al Monawara, Zanoni, and Remas Land have scrumptious delights lined up.

Last, but not least, Safi in Arabesque Mall is a popular spot for desserts, for good reason. Don't forget to thank us...

NUTRITION TIPS FOR RAMADAN

Ahlan Ramadan, a time to gather with friends and family, and to enjoy traditional dishes that we love so much. Follow these simple tips, and have a blessed Holy Month.

STAY HYDRATED. Try to have plenty of water between iftar and sohour to prevent dehydration. Avoid carbonated drinks as they have excess added sugar.

DATES TO BREAK YOUR FAST. Dates are a natural source of sugar, which helps to balance low blood sugar and fuel the body with much needed energy. Other dried fruits like apricots also aid the digestion.

SOUP. Soups are a nutritious way to break your fast because they keep you hydrated and are packed with vitamins and minerals.

AVOID ADDED SUGARS. Use herbs and spices rather than using salt and sugar to flavour meals. For dessert, skip heavy, sugary sweets and choose a piece of fresh fruit.

HAVE PROTEIN IN EVERY MEAL.

Protein-rich foods like lean meats, eggs, and beans are filling without being high in calories.

BALANCE YOUR MEALS. Avoid meals loaded with refined carbs as this may affect your blood sugar balance. This can cause your energy levels to fluctuate throughout the day. Iftar should contain healthy, complex carbohydrates like brown rice, lentils, quinoa, and whole-wheat pasta.

EAT MODERATELY DURING IFTAR.

Avoid indigestion, heartburn, and stomach cramps by splitting iftar or into two or three meals. It should include plenty of fluids, fruit, foods containing some natural sugars for energy and well-balanced meals providing a balance of starchy foods including wholegrains where possible, vegetables, dairy foods and foods rich in protein such as meat, fish, eggs and beans.

SKIP THE SALT. Reduce salt in your cooking and avoid salty snacks. Salt will stimulate thirst.

NEVER MISS SOHOUR. Yoghurt, chickpeas, fowl beans, peanut butter, lean meat like chicken, cottage cheese, and eggs are all important sohour ingredients that will sustain you for a day of fasting.

Nobody says you need to drop your fitness goals during Ramadan. In fact, how else are you going to balance all that rich food, and long evenings with hit TV series and football? It's just a matter of switching things around a bit, and choosing your best time.

Which type of exercise is best before iftar?

Low-intensity cardio before breaking your fast is fine. Just keep it to up to 75 minutes. We are able to exercise fasted due to glycogen and the body's ability to use stored body fat as energy, and it's best to schedule your workout before your fast begins, or after it ends.

Cycling is a great way to unwind after a workday, and is good for cardio-vascular health. Madinaty is a very good place for cycling, the weather is really nice, the roads are great, and there are some bicycle lanes. If you feel like company, touch base with Madinaty Cycling Team (MCT). They get a group together several times a week. ✓

A session of gentle Pilates will help you to maintain suppleness, without exhausting you. Aim to maintain your pre-fasting exercise routines, but always listen to your body and modify the frequency, intensity, duration, and the

Keep this to less than 45 minutes, and don't push yourself too hard. You may feel more comfortable switching this to after iftar, which allows you to train and refuel as you normally would. Why not break your fast with a small pre-workout snack and follow your session with a full meal?

For many, the best time to exercise during Ramadan is before dawn or early in the morning. Exercising in the morning can help you stay energized throughout the day. The best and safest time to exercise is when you have the most hydration in your body.

Yoga sessions are a great option in Ramadan, bringing health benefits, along with a feeling of calm and serenity. An early morning class can uplift your mood for the whole day. Look out for 101 Wellness, newly opened at the Strip.

Tai Chi is an ancient Chinese internal healing martial Art that can be practiced as a graceful healing form of exercise. It is a self-paced system of gentle physical exercise and stretching that has benefits for improved circulation and metabolism. It lowers blood pressure, boosts the immune system, and increases the flexibility of muscles, tendons, and ligaments.

SHOOTING GOALS IN RAMADAN

Along with all its other joys, Ramadan brings football to the fore. And with balmy spring evenings to celebrate, it's time to put on your boots and hit the turf. Both Al Rehab and Madinaty offer top notch facilities, with fields that residents can even hire to hold their own matches, so get together with friends and neighbours and make it a sporty Ramadan.

Both clubs boast high-level training academies, Liverpool Football Club (LFC International Academy Egypt) and Enppi Academy. The partnership between Liverpool International Football Academy and Talaat Mostafa Group, began in 2013, and has thrived over the years, becoming a highly successful collaboration. The academy offers top-notch facilities for training and development, boasting state-of-the-art training grounds, well-equipped gyms, and modern sports facilities that provide an ideal environment for aspiring footballers to hone their skills.

In addition to the excellent training facilities, the academy places great emphasis on the importance of nutrition and fitness, with comprehensive nutrition programs tailored to the specific needs of the players, ensuring they maintain optimal health and performance. Under the guidance of head coach David Riddle, academy players are taught to embrace an attractive and efficient style of football that reflects the ethos of Liverpool Football Club.

As an added incentive, Liverpool pool star and Egyptian football hero, Mo Salah has become a source of inspiration to young players across the globe, not only Egypt. The young players in LFC in both Madinaty and Al Rehab work hard to match the skill of their icon, and what better time than Ramadan to really get their game on!

SOUPS TO WARM YOUR HEART

A nutritious bowl of soup is just what we need in Ramadan to ward off winter chills. Here are two of our favourites, enjoy them as much as we do!

ORZO SOUP

Ingredients

- 1 medium chicken
- 1 onion
- Cardamom pods
- Pinch ground cardamom
- Salt and black pepper to taste
- Bay leaves
- Mastic gum (optional)
- 2 cups toasted orzo pasta

Preparation

Pour the water into a large stock pot, then, add the onion and seasonings. Bring the ingredients to a boil, and add the chicken to the pot. Reduce the heat, cover the pot, and simmer. Remove the chicken, bay leaf, cardamom pods, and mastic.

In a separate dry pan, toast the orzo over low heat until it is fragrant. Transfer the cooked chicken to a plate. Bring the liquid back up to a boil, and cook the orzo until al dente.

In the meantime, use two forks to shred the chicken to add back to the soup. Or, slice it to serve on the side. Serve warm with a squeeze of fresh lime juice or a sprinkle of fresh herbs such as parsley.

CREAM OF CHICKEN SOUP

Ingredients

- 1 ½ cups chicken stock, divided
- 1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- ¼ teaspoon chopped fresh parsley
- ⅛ teaspoon lemon pepper seasoning
- 1 pinch ground allspice
- 1 pinch ground paprika
- 1 cup milk
- ¾ cup all-purpose flour

Preparation

Place 1 tablespoon of chicken stock in a saucepan over medium-low heat, and cook and stir the onion and garlic in the broth until they are softened, about 3 minutes. Pour in the rest of the broth and 1/2 cup of milk, and whisk in the salt, black pepper, parsley, lemon pepper seasoning, allspice, and paprika. Bring the mixture to a boil, reduce heat, and allow to simmer for 1 to 2 minutes.

Whisk together the remaining milk and the flour until smooth, and whisk the milk mixture into the hot stock mixture. Keep whisking continuously to avoid lumps until the soup comes almost to a boil and thickens.

Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve hot.

Celebrating Iconic Moms of the Egyptian Screen

This Mother's Day we offer a tribute to the talent, warmth, and humanity some of our adored actresses have shown as they captured the eternal essence of Egyptian motherhood. Here are some of the roles that remain imprinted in our hearts.

Abla Kamel

Abla Kamel's portrayals of mothers differ from other actresses, as she often infuses the role of a strong mother figure with her distinctive humour. She charmed us in the role of the mother Faransa in the movie Ellembi (2002) starring Mohamed Saad. In Sayed Al-Atefi, Abla Kamel portrayed Um Sayed, (Hanifa) who raises her son, portrayed by Tamer Hosni, after his father died. To face the life's burdens she works a taxi driver.

Dalal Abdel-Aziz

One of her best known roles is that of a mother to Yasmine, played by Maya Shiha, in 2011 film A Girl's Secret. The story is of sixteen-year-old Yasmine, whose out-of-wedlock pregnancy sparked a lot of controversies among the film's viewers. She also embodied the role of the mother in the movie Neither Retreat nor Surrender (2010), starring Ahmed Mekki.

Mervat Amin

Mervat Amin thrilled us in Tazweer fe Awara' Rasmeya, where the wife in a married couple thought she couldn't bear a child. Her husband secretly takes a second wife, but both wives fall pregnant and deliver babies on the same day. Her talent for comedy as shown in Apple of My Eyes, a 2021 film, when she again played the role of mother so well.

Samaa Ibrahim

Samaa Ibrahim wowed us as Hassan's mother in the recent runaway hit movie, Seeking Haven for Mr. Rambo. Her prolific output of roles in leading TV series has established her as one of today's most appreciated talents, where she masters all genres with ease.

Lobna Mahmoud

Lobna Mahmoud delighted us with her dozens of appearances in films like Bank El-Haz, Wahed Tany, and Mommies Group. She excelled in roles where she played a mother, and even a mother-in-law, injecting humour and irony in equal measure.

Laila Ezz EL Din

Laila Ezz El Din's talent for comedy came to the fore in Another One (Wahed Tany), where she played Adham's mother. Her versatility has made her a star in all genres.

Traditional Villages of Cyprus

Just over an hour's flight from Cairo, a world oozing tradition and local culture is waiting for you. Cyprus has a wonderful climate, and spring is undisputedly the loveliest season. With regular daily flights to Larnaca, and all main towns a short drive away, the villages of the Troodos Mountains are within easy reach of any starting point. Hire a car, or join one of the well organised daily bus tours, or even stay a few days in a village and immerse yourself in local food and the joys of nature.

WHERE TO GO

While it might be tempting to try and visit all of the villages, most travellers select the better known. Names like Pano Platres, Moutoullas, Vouni, Omodos, Lefkara, Kakopetria, Pedoulas, along with Pissouri and Kalopanayiotis, two idyllic villages in Cyprus that have earned recognition as part of the "Best Tourism Villages 2024" by the United Nations World Tourism Organization (UNWTO). Dating back hundreds of years, each village has a rich history and unique charm, remaining unspoilt throughout the ages.

WHAT TO EAT

Local specialities showcase the diverse produce of the region. Many dishes will seem familiar; the Eastern Mediterranean influence is strong. The famous halloumi cheese is a must, as well as the grills that are popular in the small rustic tavernas dotted around.

WHERE TO STAY

If you choose to spend a few days, Casale Panayiotis offers a unique experience. Luxurious rooms and suites are located in traditional houses across Kalopanayiotis village.

Each has been lovingly restored to retain its original character and charm, along with a relaxing spa in a former stable, and a restaurant in what was once the picture house.

WHAT TO DO

Explore! The Marathasa area is considered one of the most beautiful, unspoilt regions of Cyprus, a treasure trove of walking trails with Byzantine monasteries, churches and chapels, Venetian bridges, orchards and vineyards, forests, flowers, wildlife and stunning views.

Wander through lovely old neighbourhoods with cobbled streets, thermal springs and stone-built traditional houses. Make time to explore local crafts, the tradition of lace-making in the village of Lefkara dates back to at least the fourteenth century. Scenic cycling routes are safe, traffic-free, and lead you to stunning views that stretch for miles, and horse riding is available as well.

Find My Pet!

Our four-legged friends are a part of our family, so if a beloved pup or kitty goes missing, it can be heart-breaking. To avoid this happening, there are certain steps that can help.

Microchipping

The microchip is a tiny, permanent identification device that is implanted just beneath your pet's skin, usually between the shoulder blades. It serves as a unique identifier for your pet. In the unfortunate event that your pet gets lost, the microchip can be scanned by veterinarians, animal shelters, or animal control officers. This quick scan allows them to access your contact information and facilitates a prompt reunion with your pet.

Keep your pup on a secure leash

Pups love to play and explore, but often they can wander off before their pet parent notices. For the safety of your pet, and consideration of other residents, use a leash when out walking.

Neuter and Spay

These simple operations will not only help reduce the numbers of unwanted kitties and pups needing homes, they also lessen an animal's interest in wandering off or getting into spats in mating season. There are many experienced vets who carry out the procedure, they will be happy to explain the benefits.

Keep kitty in a secure enclosed area

Cats are born escape artists and are known for their curious nature. For peace of mind, keep your kitty indoors, or screen your balcony area. Cats are very good at finding their way home, so if your fur-face does slip out, odds are that she will return by herself, eventually.

أداب زيارة المساجد في رمضان

المساجد بيوت الله تعالى، ومن أحب الله تعالى أحب بيوته، وأكثر من زيارته فيها.

قال تعالى: { وَأَنَّ الْمَسَاجِدَ لِلَّهِ فَلَا تَدْعُوا مَعَ اللَّهِ أَحَدًا } (١٨) الجن.

التهيؤ للذهاب الى المسجد بالطهارة وحسن الوضوء، ولبس الثياب النظيفة، والتجمل والتطيب واستخدام مزيل عرق.

خلع الحذاء وإزالة ما علق به من أوساخ خارج المسجد، ووضعه في المكان المخصص.

الانتباه الى طهارة الجوارب ونظافتها، قبل المشي بها داخل المسجد.

صلاة ركعتين سنة تحية المسجد قبل الجلوس.

تجنب اللهو واللعب والجري وارتفاع صوت البكاء للأطفال، واللغو والثرثرة، ورفع الأصوات ولو بقراءة القرآن لعدم التشويش على المصلين والذاكرين.

تجنب تناول الأطعمة في المسجد (يوصى بتمر وماء فقط أثناء خطبة التراويح) وجعلها أمكنة للراحة أو القيلولة.

اصطحب الأطفال للمساجد المتواجدة بها مكان مخصص لهم وتشجيع الصبية الذين تجاوزوا السابعة وإحضارهم الى المسجد تعويدا لهم على العبادة، وتحييهم بالمساجد مع تعليمهم آدابها قبل دخولها.

الحرص علي صف السيارات في الأماكن المخصصة وعدم عرقلة السير أو خروج سيارة أخرى من مكانها.
